Sir George Williams University 1435 Drummond St. Montreal 107 879-2867 or 879-2863

SGWU NEWS RELEASE

July 1, 1970
for release upon receipt

JOYCE STUDY AT S.G.W.U. ENGLISH INSTITUTE, JULY 7 - AUGUST 18

"If Ulysses isn't worth reading," James Joyce once said, "life isn't worth living." And to bring that point home, Johns Hopkins University English professor and Joyce scholar Jackson Cope will emphasize the philosophical implications of Ulysses at Sir George Williams University's Summer Institute in English, July 7 to August 18.

The summer program includes five other courses ranging from English tragedy and comedy, to contemporary European literature. More off beat than usual are two studies dealing with the social and psychological relationships of selected literary periods.

Visiting faculty from the United States and Britain are participating in the program.

- 30 -

Joel McCormick
Information Assistant